

Integration of Interventional Imaging in the Operating Systems of the Future

The University of St Andrews, in collaboration with GRADskills organises the
IIIOS Network-Level Training Course

Exploitation of Results and Intellectual Property Rights

St Andrews, 16 November 2010

Programme:

- 8.30-9.30 Coffee and registration
- 9.30-12.30 Commercialising your Research
The first part of the training will focus on how researchers can exploit their innovations and make money from their ideas, for example by licensing them, or through the formation of moderate growth rate business.
- 12.30-14.00 Lunch
- 14.00-17.00 Understanding Intellectual Property Rights
The course will then proceed by giving an understanding of Intellectual Property rights and of the regulations affecting the filing and licensing of patents, as key topics for researchers wishing to understand and exploit the commercial potential of their work.

Speakers: Dr Patrick Andrews, Break-Step Productions Ltd.
Dr Ewan Chirnside, University of St Andrews

Venue: University of St Andrews
Parliament Hall, South Street
St Andrews
Scotland
United Kingdom

St Andrews is a medieval town located 50 miles from Edinburgh. You may find information on accommodation on the Tourist Information portal website <http://www.standrews.co.uk>. The two nearest airports are Edinburgh and Glasgow (International and Prestwick). By public transport, full journey planning can be performed at www.travelinescotland.com. A taxi journey between St Andrews and Edinburgh costs approximately £ 70 (one way).

Registration:

Registration and payment of the participation fee (£ 20) can be performed online within 5 November at the address <http://tinyurl.com/iiios-ip>. Please note that on-site registration is not possible.

Contacts: Dr Mario E Giardini, mario.giardini@st-andrews.ac.uk.

